This manual also serves as a helpful reference for Governing Body members, helpers to Governing Body committees, and headquarters representatives. Each brother who is provided with a copy of this manual should read it thoroughly from time to time so as to stay up to date with theocratic policies and procedures. Elders at Bethel should be foremost in recognizing theocratic instructions, studying them, and applying them diligently. A record of the matter can be entered into Tracking Persons. There's also page 46, paragraph 92 Refusal of Blood Transfusions If our brothers' refusal of blood transfusions is being disregarded or overridden by healthcare providers, legal action may be warranted. If the Branch Committee recommends such, a complete overview of the matter should be presented to the Coordinators Committee. The recommendation should clearly state what is hoped to be accomplished by taking legal action. We are not inclined to get involved if a favorable result will not help the brotherhood in general. The organization has an interest in permanently maintaining data regarding an individual's status as one of Jehovah's Witnesses. Deleting such information would unduly infringe on the organization's religious beliefs and practices. I wonder if the EU would be interested in this. <http://www.eventoz.com.au/upload/cpe-manual.xml>

Members of the Worldwide Order are baptized ministers in special full-time service who perform whatever assignment they receive from the Worldwide Order. The support a member receives is based on the member's commitment to the Order and is not related to any service performed or the nature of any assignment. Members of the Worldwide Order receive food, shelter, and other basic necessities. Regardless of the nature of their privilege of service, all receive modest, yet appropriate, support. Ill see if I can get the secret Governing Body Manual On signing the application for Bethel service, all have affirmed the statement "I will give that assignment of service Bethel priority over all other activities." I thought that nothing was to take precedence over the preaching work. Sorry cant go out today, have to clean the toilets I hope others will read it regardless of the length. Glitch. Having in mind the advancement of the Kingdom work, the Branch Committee may at any time recommend to the Governing Body a new appointment, a removal, or the reassignment of individuals. Its interesting to consider the psychological effect of this policy statement. I suspect it tends to ensure extreme loyalty from branch committee members for fear of losing their position. Plus interesting to compare it with the GB's status which is a position for life. How might the GB act differently if their positions were viewed as temporary and subject to review. 15. First Five Years at Bethel A person who comes to Bethel should be in good health. He should have his personal affairs arranged so that he is able to devote himself to his Bethel service within the framework of the established arrangement for support of members of the Worldwide Order, such as personal time away, health care, and so forth. He should be physically, mentally, and circumstantially able to adjust to Bethel and to give consistent attention to his work assignment. In the case of a married couple, the above would apply to each mate individually. Each should enjoy good health and be able to shoulder his or her own responsibility as a member of the Bethel family. Repetition for emphasis. We really don't want to pay any health costs. In the case of disfellowshipping, the wrongdoer should be given the usual seven days to make this appeal, even though he would normally leave Bethel on the day the original judicial committee advises him of the decision to disfellowship.

No announcement of the disfellowshipping should be made until seven days have elapsed since the appeal was handled.kslO 8120. If I understand this correctly a DFed person has to leave Bethel immediately and not wait for the result of an appeal. No mention is made of what happens if the appeal is successful. This is probably an indication of how rare it is for an appeal to result in a decision to disfellowship being overturned. As an example, what do I get paid if Ive been a Bethelite for 10 years and am at Patterson It IS quite rare. Each year, the Commission reviews and refines these policies in light of congressional action, decisions from courts of appeals, sentencingrelated research, and input from the criminal justice community. Commissioners are nominated by the President and confirmed by the Senate. The Attorney General, or the Attorney General's designee, and the Chair of the U.S. Parole Commission serve as ex officio, nonvoting members of the Commission. Introduction During the Savior's mortal ministry, He organized His Church on the earth. After His death, congregations of believers met together to worship, learn the gospel, and strengthen and serve each other. Today members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints are also organized into congregations. The purpose of these congregations is to help all people "come unto Christ, and be perfected in him" Moroni 1032 . Large congregations are called wards and are presided over by a bishop. Small congregations are called branches and are presided over by a branch president. "A branch may be organized when at least two member families live in an area and one of the members is a worthy Melchizedek Priesthood holder or a worthy priest in the Aaronic Priesthood. As it grows, a branch can develop into a ward. The Appointment of Bishops and Branch Presidents A bishop is called by inspiration of the Lord and ordained by a stake president under the direction of the First Presidency of the Church and the Quorum of the Twelve. A ward bishopric consists of three high priests—a bishop and two counselors. The bishop is the presiding high priest and presides over all the members in his ward.

In addition, he is the president of the priests quorum and, together with his counselors, is responsible to watch over and nurture the young men and young women in the ward. Branch presidents are called by inspiration to be presiding authorities over their branches by the stake, mission, or district president. Branch presidents hold the Melchizedek Priesthood and serve with counselors. Their responsibilities are similar to those of the bishop. Scriptural references referring to bishops usually pertain to branch presidents also. The Temporal Responsibilities of Bishops and Branch Presidents Temporal responsibilities are those duties having to do with the physical wellbeing of the ward or branch members. One important temporal responsibility that a bishop or branch president has is to administer the Church welfare program in the ward or branch. Part of this responsibility includes administering fast offerings. Each fast Sunday members should fast for two consecutive meals and contribute a fast offering at least equal to the value of the food they would have eaten. Those who are physically unable to fast need only contribute fast offerings. As the Lord's representative, the bishop or branch president is accountable to the Lord for properly receiving, recording, and administering these offerings. One winter's day as I visited him, he was slow in answering the doorbell's ring. I entered his wellkept home; the temperature in save but one room, the kitchen, was a chilly 40 degrees. The reason not sufficient money to heat any other room. The walls needed papering, the ceilings to be lowered, the cupboards filled. "Troubled by the experience of visiting my friend, a bishop was consulted and a miracle of love, prompted by testimony, took place. The ward members were organized and the labor of love begun. A month later, my friend Lou called and asked if I would come and see what had happened to him. I did, and indeed beheld a miracle.

The sidewalks which had been uprooted by large poplar trees had been replaced, the porch of the home rebuilt, a new door with glistening hardware installed, the ceilings lowered, the walls papered, the woodwork painted, the roof replaced, and the cupboards filled. No longer was the home chilly and uninviting. It now seemed to whisper a warm welcome. Lou saved until last showing me his pride and joy there on his bed was a beautiful plaid quilt bearing the crest of his McDonald family clan. It had been made with loving care by the women of the Relief Society. Before leaving, I discovered that each week the Young Adults would bring in a hot dinner and share a home evening. Warmth had replaced the cold; repairs had transformed the wear of years; but more significantly, hope had dispelled despair and now love reigned triumphant" Thomas S. Monson, in Conference Report, Oct. 1977, 11; or Ensign, Nov. 1977, 9. Bishops and branch presidents have other temporal duties such as keeping records of all Church business and overseeing the use and security of Church buildings and facilities. They also conduct tithing settlement and receive other contributions from Church members such as funds to support missionaries. The Spiritual Responsibilities of Bishops and Branch Presidents Bishops and branch presidents are called to care for the spiritual wellbeing of the members of their Church units. As a common judge, the bishop or branch president conducts worthiness interviews, counsels members, and administers Church discipline. The gift of discernment enables a bishop or branch president to know truth, to understand the differences between good and evil, and even to know what is in a person's heart. Because he has this gift, we can seek his counsel and he can tell us what the Lord would have us do to grow spiritually. Through the gift of discernment the bishop in the following story was able to help a young man in his ward Craig, a 16yearold priest, was an outstanding young man.

He was always willing and ready to do whatever he was asked to do by his bishop. One day, however, Bishop Wells noticed that Craig was avoiding him. Even in priesthood quorum meeting, Craig's eyes were always looking in another direction. Bishop Wells wanted to call Craig as secretary to the priests quorum, but he felt something was wrong. So he called Craig into his office for an interview. During the interview Craig confessed that he had a moral problem. He said he was ashamed and did not feel worthy of the priesthood. Bishop Wells talked with him and assured him that he could repent and feel good about himself again. Through this talk, Craig learned how to overcome his problem, and through repentance, he was forgiven and became happy and enthusiastic again. Bishop Wells was then able to call him to be the secretary of the priests quorum. How did the bishop's use of the gift of discernment help Craig to grow spiritually. Because the bishop or branch president is a common judge in Israel, we can confess our sins to him and he can help us repent. When members commit serious sins, the bishop or branch president has the responsibility for holding disciplinary councils. Some additional spiritual duties of bishops and branch presidents include the following Preside over ward meetings. Conduct ward business. Coordinate the work of the Melchizedek Priesthood. Oversee callings and releases. Oversee the performance of ordinances and blessings. Recommend brethren for advancement to the Melchizedek Priesthood. Give blessings of comfort and counsel. Interview and recommend worthy members to serve as fulltime missionaries. Supporting Our Priesthood Leaders Our bishop or branch president has been called by the Lord. For this reason, it is important that we sustain him in his calling. Elder Boyd K. Packer said "A man who says he will sustain the President of the Church or the General Authorities, but cannot sustain his own bishop is deceiving himself.

The scriptures teach us some of the ways we can sustain our priesthood leaders. Ask class members to follow along as each of the following scriptures is read. After each scripture is read, ask the class members to explain what it tells us we can do to support our leaders. Scripture Counsel Doctrine and Covenants 69 Teach repentance and live the commandments. 1 Nephi 37 Accept and fulfill all callings that are given to us. Doctrine and Covenants 602 Share our talents. Hebrews 13:17 Be obedient to the counsel of our leaders. The success that our bishop or branch president has in his calling is largely determined by how we sustain him. We should always pray that Heavenly Father will guide him to lead us in the right way. Conclusion The service performed by bishops and branch presidents is vital to our wellbeing. Worthy men called to serve as bishops and branch presidents are called to give direction to the members of the Church. They serve and love us, and we should do all we can to help them accomplish their duties. As we support them, we will find that we are blessed by their leadership. Challenges Pray for your Church leaders in your personal and family prayers. Refrain from criticizing or gossiping about your Church leaders. Sustain your Church leaders by following their righteous counsel. Assign class members to present any stories, scriptures, or quotations you wish.
