A glance, a touch, a moment — a love story can begin anywhere, anytime. Then one day, you both realize that you can't imagine life without one another. The Fana love story is no different. The family behind Fana holds a rich tradition of creating elegant jewelry for sophisticated clients that goes back several generations. Their legacy merges a love for craftsmanship, elegance and timelessness of fine jewelry with modern styles that can be worn every day, regardless of the occasion. Life without beautiful, significant jewelry is unimaginable. To us, it isn't just manufacturing a ring or a pendant. It's expertly crafting the manifestation of your unique story. It's an expression of love and joy, and we take immense pride in each and every piece that passes through our hands. Each Fana jewelry piece and engagement ring is hand-crafted in our state-of- the-art jewelry workshop. Our family has been crafting jewelry for countless generations, our jewelry expertise and training is exhibited in each piece of Fana jewelry.Our manufacturing process begins with our design and model team. Our award-winning design team's sketches are turned into models using either a centuries old carved-wax method or cutting-edge 3D CAD modeling and printing technology. Our artisan team of model designers are expertly trained to fuse beauty, style and function.Each step in manufacturing our jewelry is buffered by a stringent Quality Control and Quality Assurance process. Our meticulous attention at each step of the process comes from understanding the emotional importance this piece represents today and in the future.Casting is the next step, and likely the most important. Fana has created the Fana Casting Process, that ensures a cleaner Gold or Platinum casting without porosity. The alloys our metallurgist team choses is a safely-guarded recipe, resulting in metal that is cleaner and brighter than other jewelers. All Fana pieces are crafted in Gold or Platinum, and our Gold is 100% nickel free and hypoallergenic.Once our Casting Process is complete, Fana makes sure to fully polish the entire piece, commonly referred to as Pre-Polish in the jewelry world. This extra step ensures that all the spaces that will not be accessible after stone setting are properly polished and left sparkling.Our next step is Stone-setting. Fana Diamonds and Gemstones are carefully screened and selected upholding the highest standards and parameters. Less than 1% of the loose gemstones and diamonds we review are selected to be used in our jewelry. All stones are hand-set by our master jewelers under a 10X laboratory microscope.The final step in our production process is Polishing and Finishing. Since our process began with the Fana Casting Process, our Polishing department works with a superior piece of jewelry, and bringing out the sparkle simply takes a delicate touch on the polishing wheel and an additional Rhodium bath for White Gold pieces. Once this process is done, a final Quality Check take place and the piece is on its way to its beloved. We want to make a joyous difference in your life. Each piece is made with the love and pride it deserves because when you choose Fana, we know that you're investing not only in heirloom-quality jewelry. You're investing in the next step of your love journey. Handcrafted with extraordinary care by our master jewelers in our own workshop, our jewelry is meant to capture the most special moments of your life so you relive the whole experience every time you glance at them. Our quality control specialists inspect each piece and certify that it meets our exacting standards for craftsmanship and beauty. We're also committed to keeping our work as environmentally sustainable and socially responsible as possible. All stones go through a Strict Ethical Sourcing methodology and are sourced in accordance with the non-conflict- guaranteed Kimberly Process. We are constantly auditing our sourcing and production process to reduce our environmental footprint to the best of our ability. Elevate your style with a little more sparkle. Fana jewelry pieces are artistic creations to collect through your life journey. Celebrate milestones, joyous moments and exciting new chapters with dazzling mementos. Our pieces, featuring dazzling diamonds and vibrant colors of sapphire, emerald, and rubies celebrate the things that matter in life. Discover Fine Jewelry Hatred “ 憎悪 Zoo, VIZ. Fana 「ファナ」 is a rogue mage from the Diamond Kingdom[3] living with other fugitives in the Clover Kingdom.[4] She is also the former host of the elf Fana, one of the Eye of the Midnight Sun's Third Eye.[5][6] Appearance[] Fana is a slim young girl with a serious expression. She has thick, wavy, pink hair that falls just below her shoulders, and large sea-green eyes. In the center of her forehead is a purple, multi-faceted mage stone that is framed by a red tattoo. Underneath this mage stone, she has a third eye. She wears a high collared, furry maroon dress beneath the standard light hooded robe of her group, with open-toed, knee-high boots. She also carries a pouch with her that is strapped around her shoulder. As a child, she wears a simple white dress.[7] Gallery[] Personality[] Fana is a kind, soft-spoken, caring, and respectful woman. Biography[] After becoming an orphan,[8] Fana is chosen to be a participant in the Diamond Kingdom's experiments to enhance their mages' magical power.[9] During this period, Fana meets a fellow participant, Mars, whom she tells that the experiment is performed for a good cause.[10] and they are instructed by Fanzell Kruger.[11] Fana "betrays" Mars. Throughout the experiment, Fana and Mars form a bond where they promise to explore the world together, once they are free to go outside. However, the class's last experiment is a battle royale with only the one survivor allowed to leave and become a Mage Warrior. The classmates begin to kill each other, and Fana ultimately attacks Mars as well. Fana's assault forces Mars into a corner as he lands a lethal blow on her, which completely fills him with rage and remorse.[12] To his surprise, as she is about to give out her last breath, Fana reveals her true intention behind her assault. While healing all of Mars' injuries, Fana asks him to go outside and explore the world for her as well, as she seemingly dies.[13] After the trial, she revives thanks to her phoenix-like powers. Intrigued, Moris Lhardirt experiments on her, embedding mage stones in her and piecing together her grimoire with Mars'. However, Moris is dissatisfied with the results and abandons her to die. Some time after, Patolli approaches her and uses her body to reincarnate the elf Fana.[14][15] Years later, Fana and Mars are reunited when the Eye of the Midnight Sun and the Diamond Kingdom attack the Witches' Forest. Noticing the similarity of their flames,[16] Mars calls out to her and rushes towards his old friend. Fana becomes more distressed and claims not to know him. As her anger and confusion grow, she declares that she will make everything disappear, and unleashes her mana, combining it with Salamander to create a self-destructive sphere. She releases several fireballs, one of which Asta nullifies and another Mars takes head on.[17] Mars and Asta charge Fana, who tells them to stay away and fires on them again, but they continue forward, countering her spells. As they get closer, the heat coming off of Fana's magic burns them, but Mars uses Phoenix Feathers Robe on himself and Asta to stave off the damage.[18] When they reach the sphere of mana, Fana announces that it is the end, but Asta refutes this and swings his Demon-Slayer Sword, slicing through and destroying the sphere of mana.[19] Mars embraces Fana. Fana releases her mana again and says that their hatred will never disappear. Mars dashes forward and embraces her, asking for her forgiveness. She remembers her time with Mars but these memories conflict with others. Suddenly her raging mana disappears, her third eye crumbles, and she calls Mars by name. As Mars cries, they hug amidst the destruction.[20] Mars thanks Asta for his help, and Fana is surprised and glad that Mars has made friends. Before Asta can talk to Fana, the other Black Bulls tackle him. Fana then recognizes Fanzell, who embraces Mars and Fana.[21] Fana explains to the others what she remembers of what happened after she died in the test. She tries to comfort Mars who is frustrated with himself, and he declares that he will never leave her again, which causes them both to blush. When Vanessa asks why the Eye of the Midnight Sun came to the Witches' Forest, Fana recalls a strong desire to take back a magic stone.[22] Suddenly they are all attacked by Ladros.[23] Mars armors himself and protects Fana, and when Ladros tries to blast them again, Asta defends them.[24] Mars collapses atop Fana, who tries to heal him but is out of mana.[25] Fana summons Salamander to attack Ladros. After being stabbed by Asta's Demon-Dweller sword and forced to retreat, Ladros grabs Fana and demands that she release her powerful magic, threatening to kill Mars. Desperate to stop him, she summons Salamander, which attacks the Diamond mage.[26] However, Ladros succeeds in absorbing the spirit, and Fana falls on Mars in exhaustion.[27] After Asta defeats Ladros, the Witch Queen arrives and takes everyone captive.[28] Vanessa Enoteca defeats the queen, freeing everyone.[29] Fana decides to leave with Fanzell, Dominante Code, and Mariella, instead of returning to either the Eye of the Midnight Sun or the Diamond Kingdom. Mars promises to change the country for the better, and Fana embraces him and promises that she will wait to see the world together with him.[4] Battle Prowess[] Magic[] Healing Magic: Fana uses fire-based magic for recovery purposes.[13][32] Spirit Magic: Fana uses this form of magic to summon a spirit that can assist her in battle. Fana uses this magic to summon Salamander, the fire spirit.[33] It is unknown what, if any, spells she retains after losing Salamander. Creation Magic: Fana uses this magic to shape objects from crystal.[35] Abilities[] Immense Magic Power: While possessed by an elf spirit, Fana's reserves of mana are far greater than a human's. She also has greater battle prowess than her leader Patolli[32] and is able to fight on par with a Magic Knight Captain[36] despite holding back severely, as her mana control and reserves are considered leagues beyond the Magic Knight Captains of the Clover Kingdom.[37] Artificial Dual Mana Elemental Affinity: Fana possesses mana with an affinity to more than one element, which are fire and crystal. Through these affinities, Fana is able to use spells from both fire magic and crystal magic concurrently.[38] She gains this dual affinity after the Diamond Kingdom's researchers patched her grimoire with Mars' grimoire, which has crystal affinity.[39] PhysicalStrength, MagicAmount MagicControl MagicSensing Cleverness IncineratingPower 4 5 4 4 3 5 Equipment[] Grimoire: Fana possesses a grimoire that contains various fire and crystal-based spells. The grimoire's covers are made of two different covers roughly stitched together to create a single grimoire.[32] Fights[] Events[] Invasion of the Witches' Forest Relationships[] Mars[] Mars is Fana's childhood friend. The two are extremely close and are deeply in love, though neither seems to admit it. They are childhood friends in the Diamond Kingdom's experiment and are forced to kill each other. Fana tricks Mars into killing her and tells him to see the outside world for her. Fana does not die due to her magic and becomes possessed by the elf Fana some time after. After Fana meets Mars again years later, he tries countless times to free her and protect her. When Fana is freed from her control, the two show their love and devotion for each other. Mars protects Fana from Ladros and when Mars is about to die, she summons her Salamander to save him. The two promise to be together forever and see the world together once Mars finishes business with the Diamond Kingdom. Fana strongly embraces him and tells him she will wait no matter what.[4] Notable Quotes[] "We were born to protect the people of this country we love!" 「 私達はこの國の好きな人達を守る為に生まれて来たんだよ! Watashitachi wa kono kuni no sukina hitotachi o mamoru tame ni umarete kitandayo! 」[10][40] Trivia[] Fana's favorite things are Mars and sunshine.[2] Fana ranked #21 (tied with Gauche Adlai) in the first popularity poll, #34 in the second, and #58 in the fifth. Fana means "light" in Amharic and its meaning in Tigrinya is close to "flame" or "torch." References[]
