Mustangs learning on the Prairie School startsStudents may arrive at 8:30 LEED certified "green building" When students understand the connection between education and the real world, they are more motivated to learn and succeed. College & Career Pathwayscreate a focus partnership between students, teachers and the business community, providing relevant, personalized, and real-world learning experiences. How will this affect the classes that my student will take in high school? Students will have opportunities to take similar core classes as in years past. Their core classes (for example, ELA or math) will simply integrate content from their schools industry focus. Students will also take technical core classes that align with their schools industry sector, such as business, design, or education. Elective classes such as orchestra, theatre, art, physical education, global languages and journalism will continue to be an important part of each students schedule. Will my student still be able to participate in AVID? Yes! All students may participate in the AVID program. The skills and support provided through the AVID program can benefit students in all pathways. AVID is offered at all four high schools and is open to both current 8th grade AVID participants and those students who would like to join during high school. My student has an IEP or 504 plan. How will this affect things? Student support is one of the key pillars of our Pathways program. Counseling, special education services, and all support systems will continue throughout the high school years. NKC Schools is committed to ensuring that all students have access to and are supported throughout their experience in college and career pathways. If you have specific concerns, please reach out to your students current counselor or case manager. Our staff members are here to support families throughout this transition into high school and beyond. Will my student still be able to take advantage of off-campus programs like NCAPS, the Early College Academy, and others? Off-campus programs will continue to be a vital part of our students high school choices. Programs will offer additional opportunities for students to engage in job shadowing, hands-on learning, and authentic, real world experiences to connect with their future college or career goals. Off-campus opportunities are available through all four schools within each high school. How will my student select their School of? Our high school teams will share more information about the student selection process throughout the winter. Students will have the opportunity to express their preferences. Individual voice will be honored throughout the process, with multiple opportunities for students to share their thoughts. Students will be supported in many ways throughout the process. Counselors, teachers, current high school students, and each high school College & Career Facilitator will be available to support students as they make choices about their preferences. Families can expect several additional opportunities to learn more about pathways through virtual and in-person offerings. When selections are finalized, well celebrate all students and welcome them to their chosen school with acceptance events in the spring. My student hasnt yet decided what type of career they would like to pursue. As they enter high school, many students are undecided as to which field theyd like to pursue. Its common for students to have multiple, varied interests. It's important to know that we are not asking students to commit to a career at this time. Students will be selecting an industry theme as a lens through which to learn, rather than committing to any specific path. Core curriculum will remain similar; students will simply learn through the lens of their chosen school. The skills that they will learn within each pathway will be transferable to any path they choose to pursue after graduation. What if my student changes their mind? While were encouraging all students to make their chosen school home for four years, we know that interests and goals do change. In designing classes and course sequences, our high school teams have worked to ensure that students can stay on track with their peers if they decide to change schools after their freshman year. Will my students high school still offer athletics, extracurricular clubs, activities and electives (encore) over the course of the four years? Absolutely! Co-curricular and extra-curricular activities like the arts, athletics, clubs and student organizations are a key part of the high school experience. NKC Schools believes that these activities are a critical part of student engagement in our high school communities, and we look forward to strengthening connections between the classroom and the field, court or stage. How are our schools and teachers preparing for this transition? Our staff members at each high school are excited to welcome thesecond class to take part in this initiative! Since the development of our Portrait of a Graduate began in fall 2019, several staff members, teachers, principals and many others have been engaged in the process to prepare for this transition. Collaborating across the district, our staff members have spent many hours throughout this summer and school year working on curriculum, lessons, engaging activities, and more to ensure that students have a solid foundation beginning in their very first year. How can I learn more? Pleasefeel free to get in touch with your students future high school.
